A code name or cryptonym is a word or name used, sometimes clandestinely, to refer to another name, word, project or person. Names are often used for military purposes, or in espionage. They may also be used in industrial counter-industrial espionage to protect secret projects and the like from business rivals, or to give names to projects whose marketing name has not yet been determined. The first humans are believed to have inhabited South Africa more than 100,000 years ago. The historical record of this ethnically diverse country is generally divided into five distinct periods: the pre-colonial era, the colonial era, the post-colonial and apartheid eras, and the post-apartheid era. Connecting to prior knowledge Before Reading. In a whole class group, look at the front and back cover of Pearl Barley and Charlie Parsley. Focus students' attention on the body language of the two characters on the front cover and read the blurb on the back to encourage ideas from the group. Some students may be familiar with Aaron Blabey's books and use that prior knowledge to predict. DDB Remedy is a creative agency that focuses on health communication.
